

Trane Wins I-Design Awards

New Delhi, India, November 30, 2012 - Trane, a global leader in heating, ventilation and air conditioning systems (HVAC) has bagged the I-Design awards for 2012 - 2013 for its Interactive Air conditioner in 'Electrical Household Devices Design' category and Interactive Electronic Lock in 'Electronic Equipment Design' category. I -Design Award is India's premiere product design award, which aims to highlight the excellent qualifications of best designs, design concepts and design oriented products by Indian designers. The awards were announced in Chennai recently and are organized by I-Design annually across a wide range of categories.

Trane has recently launched Interactive Air Conditioners & Interactive locks for Indian homes, driven by Trane Interactive Technology. These products interact with each other to deliver a host of benefits for the end consumer. Intelligence & smartness have been built in the product designs in such a fashion that they ensure ultimate comfort, convenience and control.

Expressing his happiness over the win, Mr. Sameer Nagpal, Business Head and Vice President, Residential Solutions, Ingersoll Rand, India said "Trane has a rich legacy, resting on pillars of reliability, high quality and product innovation. We are extremely delighted to have won the I-Design awards for our Interactive products. The Trane Interactive Air conditioner and Lock have been designed by our in-house team at the Trane's India development centre in Bangalore after an extensive customer research. These interactive products are purely an outcome of Indian customer insights. It is an honour to be recognized for creating products that are so relevant to Indian customers today. "

"I-Design Awards are amongst one of the most prestigious design awards. Receiving such admiration for the products only encourages us that we are in the right direction. Going forward, we plan create more such products which will redefine home comfort & security. " he further added.
